

USING THIS REPORT

The legislative documentation in this report begins with the procedural history of the bill. The documents follow thereafter in chronological order.

A. Printing this report

Because pdf documents can be big digital files, printing will often occur more quickly if you download the document to a file on your computer and print from that file.

B. Page numbering:

An adobe pdf window has inherent page numbering, but that numbering is lost once the pages are printed. We do not automatically insert additional page numbering, but can do so upon request at the bottom of each page. To avoid impinging on the text of the document the footer numbering could be within 3/8 of an inch from the bottom edge of the page. If you anticipate this will create a problem printing on your system please let us know.

C. Continuing Availability:

Documents we post at Najfiles.net will remain at the link we forward to you for a minimum of three months to allow you to access the documents at your own pace as necessary.

D. Sharing Reports

We view this research as purchased by your firm and/or the client you represent. Therefore, from our perspective sharing of this link, or the document collection printed from this link, is authorized:

- A. Within the firm without restriction. This includes downloading the documents and retaining in long-term library storage for future access.
- B. With co-counsel on any matter on behalf of the client for whom this research was performed.
- C. With the client on whose behalf this research was compiled.

This authorization outlines our policies on sharing. Because you and your firm may wish to adopt more restrictive internal policies about sharing client work product to protect your attorney-client relationship we will not share this link without authorization from the person who authorized the search or their designee.
